Type I preliminary technical manual accompanied by an engineering data package which shall include all applicable drawings, illustration, and technical data relevant to installation, safety, operation, maintenance, trouble shooting, repair, special tools, and required test equipment. Newport News Shipbuilding will provide two (2) In-Process Reviews (IPR's). The preliminary technical manuals and engineering data package must be submitted to NNS at least 20 business days prior to shipment of the equipment unless otherwise specified.

The preliminary technical manual will be returned to the vendor, by letter, for final review for technical accuracy, and validation in accordance with Appendix E. Upon receipt of the revised preliminary technical manual from Newport News Shipbuilding, the final review and validation of the revised technical manual shall be completed and submitted to NNS no later than 120 business days after receipt of the technical manual unless otherwise specified.
